200-on-100 ROUTE INFORMATION

Meet at old North Troy US border station at 4:30 am for 5:00 start. Note that a passport or enhanced driver’s license is required to return to US if you actually cross into Canada. We advise that you stay on the US side to avoid delays. Park at the old border station. Do not leave your vehicle at the border for the ride. There are no public restrooms at the border. Jeanne’s cell: (802) 578-6629, Steve’s cell: (802) 734-2202. Be careful—you may connect to a Canadian cell tower & $$$ roaming charges!

Break Spots & Detour
*Starred breaks are places most riders will want to stop. Others are suggested places for sag vehicles to be available.

1. It is recommended that sag vehicles be available somewhere within the first five miles, in case something unexpected is noted right after the start, or for riders to shed extra layers of clothing. After that, being available every 20 miles or so is typically appreciated. Riders will catch up to you faster than you expect.

2. *55 mi. Waterbury town green on left, ½ mile after joining US 2 in Waterbury. Green Mountain Coffee Roasters is on green and has restrooms. (Note: Support vehicles following the ride through Middlesex might be interested in the Red Hen Bakery, a bike-friendly place on the right, just before the VT 100B turn. Riders may want to take the Lovers Lane detour across a closed bridge at mile 59.)

3. 74 mi. Waitsfield There is a farmers’ market on the right, after the hill out of Waitsfield. It’s early for riders to stop, but support people may want to check it out.

4. 87 mi. Granville Gulf. Cyclists don’t typically want to stop on the descent, but you’ll want to see the waterfalls right by the road.

5. *97 mi. Rochester town green, on left in center of town. Stores & small deli next to green. Green Mountain Bicycle is a great shop on right, before green. Staffed by a cast of colorful characters.

6. 118 mi. Water Wheel Trading Post (Killington), Rtes. 4 & 100 after descent, on right. Small convenience store and a good place for a quick break after the long Killington climb. There is another convenience store in W. Bridgewater, mile 122.

7. *138 mi. Ludlow. Continue past the intersection where VT-100 turns right in Ludlow, continuing on VT-103 through downtown to small park (no rest rooms). Cheapest gas on the route is in downtown Ludlow. Backtrack to VT-100 and pass under RR bridge to start Terrible Mt. climb.

8. 150 mi. Weston Town Green on right. It’s only been 10 miles since Ludlow, but that includes Terrible Mountain. Restrooms should be available in the downstairs of the Weston Opera House. Take time to check out the waterfall behind the opera house. The Vermont Country Store is a popular place for support people to check out.

9. 162 mi. Intersection of Rtes. 100 & 30 (Rawsonville). Convenience store here has restrooms.

10. 170 mi. Intersection of Rtes. 100 & 30 (E. Jamaica). No stores here, but a good chance to refill water bottles before the Mt. Snow climb. Port-a-potty at ball field across the road. Some may decide to skip the climb and follow VT 30 to Brattleboro.

11. *182 mi. Top of Mt. Snow climb. Riders will usually want to stop to regroup and refill water bottles. If you’ve made it this far, you’re going to finish! Well, there’s still 1,000’ of climbing to go… Note: This is a private driveway.

12. 194 mi. Intersection of Rtes. 9 & 100 & 197 mi. Wilmington Cross Rd. Easy to miss the latter, and riders may not believe that the super-steep climb is better than continuing into Jacksonville, but it is!

13. 206 mi. Corner of VT-100 and Tunnel Street—Tired riders are smelling the barn and won’t stop, but you don’t want them to miss the turn in front of the Readsboro Inn. The state line is less than 3 miles away!
